MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, FBIS

FROM: Chief, London Bureau

THROUGH: Chief, Operations Group

SUBJECT: Monthly Report -- London Bureau -- April 1982

I. GENERAL

The acting chief accompanied BBC architects and construction company reps on a walkthrough of the cubicles building prior to final acceptance. Minor faults to be made right were noted. The bureau will be discussing with Engineering Division the proposed linkup between the satellite antenna and the cubicles building. We hope that this can be accomplished during the summer.

II. OPERATIONS

A. Editorial/Monitorial

1. Former UK Foreign Secretary Humphrey Atkins' emergency statement to the Commons on the morning of 2 April that an Argentine attack on the Falkland Islands was imminent heralded a crisis that continues to engross most of the bureau. With the Monitoring Service's interest and efforts restricted to "foreign" reportage, it fell to the bureau alone to cover the British side of the conflict. Receivers/recorders and transcribers were set up in the editorial room and our Editors mounted an open watch on BBC Radio 4 which is providing fullest coverage. Relays of Parliament's debates on the situation added to a steady stream of FYIs and items, which included several flashes on significant events. Television, too, provided unique material; our two Radio monitors readjusted their schedules to be on duty for BBC's and ITV's major newscasts and numerous special programs and interviews. Reports of Argentine television broadcasts via satellite prompted a fruitless search of the horizon by the ROSET cruiser. PMU filed voluminously from the British Press.

2. The foiling of another coup plot in Iran and an upsurge of fighting in its war with Iraq; party, government and trade union meetings throughout Eastern Europe, and Lenin birthday and May Day celebrations in the Bloc were among the less dramatic business of the month. The fragile state of Brezhnev's health lent unusual importance to the Moscow fetes, both of which were carried live by Soviet radio and television; Brezhnev's appearances as well as those of others in the Kremlin hierarchy, including that of the recently unseen Kirilenko at the May Day parade, were reported expeditiously in FYIs. The bureau also filed detailed editorial reports on the video coverage and forwarded the videotapes to Headquarters.
3. The Heathrow baggage handlers strike ended in mid-April. PMU's Soviet press receipts returned to normal and we discontinued the courier service on 26 April.
4. PMU Russian, French and Polish monitor trainee resigned on 2 April after four months on duty. She plans to pursue a musical career.
5. NEAAD and Gulf Bureau assisted PMU in its Arabic coverage for 2 weeks while one of our Arabic monitors was on leave.

STAT

B. Communications

The Mode V Autodin circuit is being deactivated now that all problems with the new 150-baud Mode I terminal using the newly developed Inteq interface device have been resolved. The timing driver at the Croughton switch was found to be the cause of the last malfunction. We now have an effective 150-baud Autodin entry point as an alternative to our 600-baud terminal.

C. Technical

1. A timer f/u/w the video recorders in Moscow was returned after repair.
2. A dual cassette monitoring facility was set up in the editorial room for use in recording and transcribing BBC radio material on the Falklands crisis. The PRESS ASSOCIATION teleprinter was moved into the editorial room.

-3-

D. Cologne Unit

1. The SPD held its long-awaited congress in Munich during the week of the 19th. Despite speculation that the congress would be a stormy one because of the NATO dual decision and the peace issue, it turned out to be a relatively dull affair: A security debate failed to materialize and security decisions were postponed.
2. DW provided extensive coverage of the 10th FDGB congress in East Berlin 21-24 April. All major speeches, including the main report by FDGB chairman Harry Tisch and a speech by SED leader Erich Honecker, were processed from live relays carried by East Berlin television.

III. ADMINISTRATION
